

Amy Bultena is an artist based in California's central valley. Originally, from the southern United States, she grew up interacting with women who highly valued fine china and houseplants. Despite her best efforts those interests rubbed off on her; they often appear as familiar motifs in her work. Amy specializes in juxtaposing the stylized patterns of china and painted pottery with the organic shapes of succulents and other hardy houseplants. She is passionate about refining her technique, thrifting great pottery, and observing the world contained in small objects.

Online

<https://artfulartsyamy.com.wixsite.com/amybultenaart>
www.instagram.com/amybultenaart

Education

Ed.S. Inclusive Education, Kennesaw State University
M.A.T Art Education, Kennesaw State University
B.F.A. Painting, The University of Georgia

Exhibitions

2019 Mistlin Gallery Autumn Art Showcase
2008 Sub-Lit Magazine, Vol. 1, Issue 3, Featured Artist
2007 New Art Show, Fine Line Gallery, Atlanta, GA
2007 Emerging Artist Show, Doog Gallery, Atlanta, GA
2006 "Art Party" Show, Doog Gallery, Atlanta, GA
2004 Alpharetta Heritage Festival, Alpharetta, GA
2004 "Gluttony Digest," Vol. 1, Issue 4, Featured Painter
2004 Estrofest Arts Festival, Atlanta, GA
2004 North Georgia Juried Exhibition, Abernathy Fine Arts Center, Roswell, GA
2004 Bella Nova Emerging Artists Show, King Plow Art Center, Atlanta, GA

Amy Bultena